For those who want to keep editing on the go, Photoshop CC will have new mobile features. Now users can. As of the December 2019 release of Photoshop CC, editing tools can be edited on iOS, Android, Google and the web. This means mobile editing can happen, even if you don't have two minutes to spare. Photoshop CC will also be enhanced to help new users be successful as well. Of course, with any new tool it is always difficult to navigate for someone who is new to creating and editing graphics. A new feature emerging from Photoshop CC 2019 is a brand-new type of layer. These new layers are called Content-Aware Layers, and they will simulate how pieces of a photo blend together, such as the parts of a person's face that are covered by a hat or scarf; or the background in a photograph that appears to be the same color as the picture's subject. In addition, we added a Group option, which will give you the ability to group up multiple layers, so that you can edit multiple images at once. You can also create layers that mask-out your subject from a photo. Later in 2019, we'll add unique text features, such as copyable text and placeable text.
